

Modern Slavery & Human Trafficking Act Statement

Trust Utility Management Ltd is a utility contractor based in Stanton by Dale, Derbyshire. It undertakes utility installation and maintenance work, along with supporting works, for major utility suppliers and Highway Electrical contracts for Local Authorities and other public and private clients across throughout the Midlands.

Trust Utility Management Ltd aspires to manage its social, ethical and environmental responsibilities by upholding the key principles:

- To treat people fairly and equitably
- To operate ethically and with integrity
- To respect basic human rights and ensure that we and our supply chain conform to the Modern Slavery Act 2015
- To sustain the environment for the future
- To be a caring neighbour in our community

In carrying out our operations we have a transparent procurement system that recognises Modern Slavery is a complex supply chain issue. We have implemented processes to ensure, as far as reasonably practicable, our supply chain adheres to our expectations in respect to their workforce.

All HR and procurement staff will be trained in the basic requirements of the act to raise awareness across the company in its compliance.

The company's performance will be monitored annually and suppliers and subcontractors not complying will be removed from the supply chain.
